Wartime Combat Leaders Supporting Proposition 4

More than 100 Californian wartime combat leaders—ranking Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps men who led American forces in battle—today pledged their support of Proposition 4, the Oil Conservation Act, as "a true and widely beneficial conservation measure, vitally important to the national security."

Spearheading the newly formed National Defense Committee for Proposition 4 are: Gen. Omar N. Bradley, wartime commander in Europe of the First and Twelfth armies and former Army chief of staff and chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who said that the current Suez crisis "is a reminder of the imperative need of reducing our dependence on foreign oil";

Gen. Holland M. "Howling Mad" Smith, USMC (ret.), famed Marine commander of the heroic island-hopping Fifth Amphibious Corps in the South Pacific: "America must maintain the greatest possible production of oil if we are going to make an aggressor nation think twice before attacking our homeland"; Lt. Gen. James H. "Jimmy" Doolittle, Air Force leader of the historic Tokyo bombers and later the mighty Eighth Air Force in Europe and the South Pacific: "The benefits of Proposition 4 to labor, to business, to the motorist, to all our people are obvious. But most important of all is the effect it will have on . . . the security of our nation";

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, former commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet and the Navy's ranking wartime combat officer, previously had announced his support of Proposition 4.

Student's Arm Caught In Plane Propeller

A Lomita man received a badly mangled left arm Monday when the limb became caught in a whirling propeller at the Northrop Aeronautical Institute, Inglewood.

Eugene Dahlquist, 25, 438 Harbor Hills, a student at the institute, was injured when he walked between two test propellers while the propellers were spinning at 1500 rpm.

Rushed to Centinela Hospital for major surgery, Dahlquist probably will not lose his arm, doctors said.

Why the Oil Conservation Act will KEEP GAS PRICES DOWN

- Why does Oil Conservation mean gasoline price protection for motorists?
- Why will Proposition 4, the Oil Conservation Act, help keep gas prices down?

—Because conservation of California's irreplaceable oil resources means stopping waste in the production of oil. It means getting every last drop of oil from the ground that it is possible to get by modern, scientific recovery methods.

—Because Proposition 4—by providing urgently needed Oil Conservation legislation—will double the production of oil from California fields.

—Because a plentiful supply of low-cost California oil is the best possible guarantee against drastic increases in the service-station price of gas.

IF YOU DRIVE A CAR, you are vitally concerned over the price of gasoline.

There are three pressures operating today in the direction of increased prices of gasoline. They are:

1. Greater expenditures by both the Federal and State governments for improved highways and freeways—financed by higher taxes on every gallon of gas you buy.
2. The Suez Canal crisis and Middle East unrest—foreshadowing demands on American oil to fill Western European needs.
3. The constantly increasing horsepower of automobile motors—requiring gasoline with higher and higher octane content.

The great, pocket-book importance of Proposition 4 to motorists is that it will provide an important counter-pressure to these rising price trends—by greatly increasing the supply of low-cost California crude oil.

TODAY, CALIFORNIA IS AN "OIL DEFICIT" STATE—we use more oil and gasoline than we produce.

Yet, today, only half the oil that can be recovered is being recovered—the other half remains in the ground, tragically wasted, for want of proper Oil Conservation procedures.

Proposition 4 provides the legal framework to make it possible to recover that presently wasted half of our producible oil resources. It will replace scarcity with plenty—adding a whopping 4 billion barrels to our known, recoverable oil reserves.

Best of all, the additional oil that will be produced from existing fields will be relatively inexpensive oil—because huge discovery, drilling and investment costs are not needed to produce it.

By providing a new, important source of low-cost California crude oil, Proposition 4 will help keep gasoline prices down!

● THESE COMPANIES SERVE THE MOTORIST: The major, integrated oil companies (with only one exception)—the companies that not only produce oil, but refine it and distribute it to the public—support Proposition 4. Their interest is in volume production and distribution of gasoline at reasonable prices.

● THESE COMPANIES DO NOT SERVE THE MOTORIST: On the other hand, the interest of the large-scale, multi-million dollar "independents" who are opposed to Proposition 4 is in higher prices. They are simply producers of crude oil and do not serve the motoring public. They are currently agitating for higher prices for crude oil.

● THE MOTORIST'S INTEREST, THE PUBLIC INTEREST, YOUR INTEREST—CLEARLY IS IN BOOSTING SUPPLIES OF LOW-COST CALIFORNIA OIL, AND KEEPING GASOLINE PRICES DOWN, BY ENACTMENT OF PROPOSITION 4.

Have you read "The Case of California's Disappearing Oil"? Ask for it at your service station or news stand.

School children visit "Telezonia". Lots of grade schools are now showing pupils a color motion picture about a fabulous land of puppets. It's called "Adventure in Telezonia". The movie's part of a special kit. It was worked out by telephone people at the request of teachers and with their help. It's loaned to schools to show children how to use the phone correctly. This is important. For good telephone service depends a lot on how you and others use your phones. So the good telephone habits "Telezonia" is teaching children help make service better for everyone. The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.
